

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS

Officer Snyder Arraigned Before the Board on Serious Charge.

He Is Under the Complaint of a Girl Named Maddie Cousins, Who Says That the Officer Is a Party to an Assault on Her. The Officer Testifies.

The Police Board held a meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Present: Commissioners Bolton and Verdier. Mr. Verdier presided.

A letter was received from Mr. W. H. Creekmur, whose application was before the Board at its last meeting for a position on the force, requesting the Board to allow him to withdraw it, as he had secured a more lucrative position.

The request was granted. Officer Snyder was before the board to answer a complaint preferred against him for having sometime last spring been a party to a criminal assault committed by a colored man named Tony Keeling, on the person of a girl named Maddie Cousins, 16 years of age. The evidence of Mr. M. Gross, who made the complaint, Mike Perry and the colored girl, Maddie Cousins, was heard.

The immediate cause of the investigation was brought about by Mr. Gross' clerk looking into the character of Officer Snyder in connection with a suit brought against the city for the illegal capture of his dog by the officer. Mr. Gross coming into the full possession of all the facts through his clerk, felt justified in reporting the matter to the board.

Mr. Gross' testimony was to the effect that the girl passed his house on the night of alleged occurrence in company with his colored porter, Mike Perry, weeping, and that when the porter came to work the next morning he stated to him what had occurred the night previous.

Mr. Gross advised Perry to tell the girl's mother, and for them to make a complaint to the authorities. He said the matter then passed out of his mind until it was brought up by the investigation of the recent dog capture.

Perry testified that he was an eye witness to the assault, seen through a window from the street by him, and that Officer Snyder stood in the room at the time of the occurrence.

The girl Maddie Cousins made a straightforward statement of what occurred, and gave as a reason for not reporting the affair that she was intimidated by the officer and from fear that he would arrest her and lock her up.

The girl, in answer to a question by Capt. Bolton as to what she did for a livelihood, said that she had been working off and on for the past four years for Mr. Pickett in his crab factory at Virginia Beach and that she went to this house in company with Mike Perry to call on a girl friend that lived there. While sitting in the room with Perry and the other girl the officer came in with Keeling and the girl who lived in the house ran out through fear of the officer.

The officer then asked for the keeper of the house and on being told that she had gone out he commanded Mike Perry to go out and find her, leaving her alone with the officer and Keeling, and that it was then that the assault was committed by Keeling, the officer being present.

Officer Snyder was called and testified in his behalf. He stated that he went to a house on New street last spring, which had been complained of as a nuisance by the residents in that locality, and had driven from it several women and men, all colored; that on the night in question he did not see the girl Maddie Cousins in the crowd, but that he had seen her on previous occasions in that neighborhood, and had ordered her to leave.

At this point the investigation took considerable latitude. Mr. Julius F. Saunders, who had been employed by Mr. Gross as counsel for the girl, objected to introduction of matters of an irrelevant character, to introduce the complaint was allowed to introduce rebuttal testimony. He claimed that the matter of the capture of the dog, referred to in the evidence of Officer Snyder, had no connection with the specific charge; that matter would be investigated in the courts, as Mr. Gross had already sued out the necessary papers.

Chief King was heard. He testified that the house in question where the alleged criminal assault was committed had been reported to him as a house of questionable character, and that he had ordered Officer Snyder to raid it, which he had reported to him that he had done and that the inmates left the house and never returned.

After hearing all the evidence the Board continued the case until the next meeting in order to allow the officer to secure further evidence in his defense, at which time the plaintiff and her witnesses will be present and a further examination made.

Officer Bass was arraigned on the charge of indulging in intoxicating liquors, and the full examination into the charge was postponed until the next meeting of the Board.

Mr. E. D. Kite was appointed a substitute on the force, provided he passes the usual medical examination. Adjourned.

The offense charged against Officer Snyder and the negro Keeling is of a serious character. Under the laws of Virginia it is punished with death or a term in the penitentiary. The investigation will likely be taken notice of by the grand jury.

THE DURRANT MURDER TRIAL.
Clarence Wolf Denies Any Knowledge of the Latest Story Published.

By Southern Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—The number of people who are willing to stand in a big crowd for hours at a time just to catch a glimpse of Durrant, the little mild-faced boyish looking individual accused of two fiendish murders, is surprising even to one accustomed to such things.

Durrant was the recipient of a postal card from Yreka, the little city in the State where four murderers were lynched a few days ago, advising him to get a change of venue as the citizens of Yreka would get him a jury and give him a fair and speedy trial. The way they try people in Yreka is too well known so it is hardly probable that this suggestion will be accepted.

In reference to the story printed here yesterday to the effect that Durrant had told Clarence Wolf, an intimate friend, of his intention to ruin Blanche Lamont, and assuming that the conversation furnished a motive for the crime, the Chronicle this morning prints the following statement from Wolf: "I don't see," said Wolf yesterday, "how such a story originated. I am at a loss to know where it came from. Not a line of the article is true, not a line. I am not and never have been an intimate friend of Theodore Durrant."

I have known him a long time, but I was not in any way intimate with him. We were friendly enough, but seldom met. I rarely had any conversation with him, unless we met at some kind of a church gathering. I know nothing against Durrant."

Durrant was in no way exercised over the publication, declaring there was no foundation for it. "It is utterly untrue," said he, "that I ever spoke in a malicious or slighting way about Blanche Lamont or Clarence Wolf."

The prosecution have forged another link in the terrible chain, which day by day more closely fastens guilt upon the young medical student. The police claim to have found a new witness who will give the strongest proof that Durrant did not attend the lecture delivered by Dr. Cheney on the afternoon of April 3d, at the Cooper Medical Institute. For months an effort has been made to overcome the silent testimony of Dr. Cheney's record. It has been an obstacle to all absolute proof. It has stood in the way of convincing demonstration that Durrant was not in the college at that hour.

When Dr. Gilbert F. Graham testified he will swear that the prisoner begged him to lend him his notebook that he might compare the notes of Dr. Cheney's lecture of the afternoon of April 3 with his own. This strange request was made several days after Durrant had been arrested and stood accused of the horrifying crime.

He was trying to establish a proof that he was at the lecture when several people would swear that they saw him elsewhere. He knew that student absent would say that his notebook was a model in the class and he sent for his friend to ask him for his notes.

Before the opening of the Durrant case this morning District Attorney Barnes stated that he had fully tested the eyesight of Mrs. Leak, who claims to have seen the accused and Miss Lamont enter the church by a side door on the afternoon of April 3, and that he had found her to be a competent witness. When the case was called, Officer Russell took the stand and explained more fully about the model of the church.

More About Holmes.

By Southern Associated Press.

TORONTO, Ont., September 5.—The local authorities have been notified that H. H. Holmes, the multi-murderer, will be placed on trial at Philadelphia shortly for the murder of Benjamin F. Pitezel, father of the two girls whom Holmes is alleged to have murdered in the St. Vincent street cottage in this city. In the event of the failure to convict Holmes in Philadelphia, he will be handed over to the Indianapolis authorities, and will be brought to Canada only after all attempts to convict him in the United States of capital offense have proved abortive.

INDUSTRIES IN THE SOUTH

The Southland Bids Fair to Have a Most Prosperous Season.

The Number of New Cotton Mills Projected During the Last Three Months Exceed That of Any Similar Period in the History of Mill Building.

By Southern Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, September 5.—The Manufacturers' Record says that the announcements of new cotton mills projected in the South during the last three months exceed that of any similar period in the history of cotton mill building in this section. There were reported seventy-seven mills which will have an aggregate of over 300,000 spindles, which added to the 500,000 spindles to be put into mills that had been reported prior to May 31st, makes a total of about 800,000 spindles to be added to the number now in operation in the South.

If these mills are all built as indications promise, the aggregate investment will represent something over $15,000,000. A large majority of these mills are already under construction or contracted for, so that the percentage of those that are never built will be very small.

Mills reported during the past week were a 2,000 spindle mill at Douglasville, Ga.; a $100,000 mill at Yorkville, S. C.; 20,000 additional spindles to Mooreville, N. C.; 25,000 additional spindles to a Harmony Grove, Ga.; 15,000 additional spindles to a mill at Laurens, S. C.; a $50,000 addition to a Knoxville cotton mill.

Among other enterprises reported for the week were the completion of a $100,000 coke plant in Alabama, the starting up of large ear works at Aniston, which have been idle for several years; a $500,000 gold mining company and the enlargement of furnaces in Arkansas; the development of Bauxite mines in Florida, an ice plant, water works, $100,000 fertilizer works and $22,000 water works improvements; in Georgia, a $300,000 water works plant proposed and electric light plant; in Maryland, furniture works, construction company, $10,000 of water works improvements, and a flour mill; in North Carolina a $50,000 shoe factory, gas plant, saw mill, oil mills and a $100,000 construction company; in South Carolina a $80,000 water power plant projected, twenty-five barrel flour mill, brick works and a shuttle mill; in Tennessee coke ovens and a furniture factory; in Texas a cotton compress company, broom factory and irrigating plant; in Virginia the sale of a tin mining property for development is reported, a twenty-five barrel flour mill, a tobacco factory and machine shops; in West Virginia several extensive oil and gas companies, and in other States a number of miscellaneous enterprises covering quite a diversity of industrial interests.

The rapid expansion of the textile interests of the South and the phenomenal activity prevailing in iron and coal matters, coupled with an increasing demand for farm lands for settlement by Western people, is bringing about an unusually healthy business condition throughout the entire South. With the continuation of high prices for coal, the enormous grain crop which has been produced and these active conditions in industrial interests the South bids fair to have the most prosperous season which it has enjoyed for many years.

Circular to the G. A. R.

By Southern Associated Press.

ROCKFORD, Ill., September 5.—The following was issued from the National headquarters of the Grand Army to day:

The Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic is in receipt of an invitation to the comrades of the organization to be present at the Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, on "Blue and Gray Day," September 21st. This invitation comes too late to promulgate from headquarters, but the Commander-in-Chief is anxious that the comrades should know that they are invited to be present to mingle with those who wore the gray from 1861 to 1865, and he trusts that a large number of veterans will be present.

Threaten to Withdraw From the Association.

By Southern Associated Press.

NEW YORK, September 5.—The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and the Western and Atlantic roads have given notice of their intention to withdraw from the Southern States Passenger Association. The reason assigned for this decision is said to be the failure to obtain any equalization of rates via Chattanooga and Bristol, the same basis as applied to competing lines via Cincinnati, under the rules of the association. The withdrawal does not take effect for six months and no consequent rate disturbance is expected to follow.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The State Department has received information that the steamer bearing the record of the Waller court martial, which the United States has repeatedly requested of France, will reach Aden, on the Red sea, on September 12th. This means that the report will be due in Paris about ten days later, and allowing for its examination by the ministry of foreign affairs, a copy of it should be delivered to Ambassador Eustis during the last week in September, provided, of course, that the ministry does not temporize further. The deposition made by Waller to Newton B. Eustis and Mr. Alexander has not reached the State Department, but is expected before the end of the week. This state ment, with the record of the court martial and the report made to the Navy Department by Commander Thomas Perry, of the gunboat Castine, will form the main evidence on which the United States Government will base its claim for Waller's release, and for indemnity on account of his imprisonment and the confiscation of his rubber concession. The case is now in abeyance, pending the arrival of the record and the deposition of Waller.

Something more about the distressed negro colonists from Georgia and Alabama, who deserted the colony at Tabanahua, Mexico, was received at the State Department to-day. In a letter from the Vice Consul of the United States at Pedras Negras, he says that on August 11th the local authorities, under instructions from the Governor of the State, took charge of the colonists at Torreón and transported them across the border to Eagle Pass, Texas. Twenty-four negroes arrived at Pedras Negras, from Torreón on August 17th, and on the 21st and 23d others reached there. The Vice Consul adds that so far as he can learn all the negroes who left the colony at Tabanahua have arrived at Eagle Pass, the greater number of whom are held in quarantine. No cases of smallpox have developed outside the ranks of the colonists and no further trouble is anticipated.

The State Department is not pleased with the course that is being pursued by W. L. Sachtleben, of Alton, Ill., who was sent to Armenia by the proprietors of a cycling magazine to investigate the circumstances of the murder of Frank Lenz, of Pittsburgh, who started to tour the world on a bicycle. Mr. Sachtleben has written several letters reflecting on the State Department, and particularly on the late Secretary Friesheim and Mr. Terrell, United States Minister to Constantinople, but it is understood that his employers have repudiated any responsibility for or acquiescence in his views. The department is dealing directly with the magazine owners in the matter and has had no correspondence with Sachtleben. Minister Terrell has been instructed to press the Turkish Government to send an escort with Mr. Sachtleben into the wild country near Erzerum, where Lenz was killed, but the department has not yet received information that he has been successful.

The failure of Messrs. Robert S. Chilton and William Dunaway Hunter, of the State Department, to secure exequators from the Porte to enable them to establish the United States Consulate at Erzerum and Harpoot, authorized by the last Congress on account of the attacks on Christians in Armenia, is causing some surprise in official circles. They arrived in Constantinople in July, and expected to receive their exequators in a fortnight. A recent dispatch states that they are still waiting, and as they are expected to cable when their object is accomplished it is presumed that the Porte has granted the desired authority. The reason for this procrastination is not clear, but it is probably due to the suspicion with which the Turkish Government views anything resembling an attempt to secure information about the Armenian outrages.

The broker firm of Silsby & Co., which has been doing an extensive business in Washington, closed their doors to-day. The failure was caused by failure to make connections to tide over the hard times. Assets about $20,000, with liabilities of $25,000. The concern also has branches in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

The treasury gold reserve to-day with all the withdrawals and deposits accounted for stands at $3,927,567, or $73,000 below the reserve limit.

Cadet appointments have been made as follows: N. H. Ghoulston, Philadelphia; Joseph W. Cunningham, of Lexington, Tenn., alternate.

Many Matters of Interest to All Good Citizens.

Hon. Geo. D. Wise Getting Ready for the Congressional Campaign. What the Populists Expect to Do This Fall. Ex-Gov. Brown's Son Talks.

Special Dispatch to The Virginian.

RICHMOND, Va., September 5.—The Populists are to all appearances more hopeful of giving the Democrats a closer race this fall than they ever have been. Heretofore they have not been working in harmony with the Republicans but everyone knows by this time that there will be but one ticket put in opposition to the Democratic nominees. A leading Populist who was in town to-day said he believed the anti-Democrats would control the House but he had no hope of capturing the Senate, where all but two of the hold-over members are Democrats. The Democrats laugh at the idea of losing the House.

No call has been made as yet for a meeting of the State Democratic Committee and, as was predicted in this correspondent several days ago, Chairman Ellyson is not likely to convene the body before the latter part of the month. Comparatively few nominations have been made as yet. Not in many years have the Democrats been so slow in making up their tickets. The State Committee is composed of five members from each district. This body has to make plans for conducting the canvass. It is said that there will be very little stump speaking this fall, but the fight will be conducted along quiet lines.

Hon. George D. Wise has already opened his canvass for the Democratic nomination for Congress next year. He is quietly organizing his forces and is not taking any chances by waiting. It is going to be a pretty tight battle between him and Congressman Ellett and already there is much interest manifested. Mr. Wise had served seven terms when defeated last year by Col. Ellett.

I had a pleasant interview a day or two ago with Mr. Julius H. Brown, of Atlanta, a son of the late ex-Gov. Joe Brown. Mr. Brown says the Atlanta Exposition is going to be one of the biggest things this country has ever seen. The buildings cover more ground than those at the Centennial in Philadelphia. Like all true Atlantians Mr. Brown is quite proud of his city, which he thinks is going to lead any in the South and some day rank ahead of all except New York and Chicago.

It has just leaked out to night that Richard W. Cardwell, a bookkeeper at the State Bank of Virginia, allowed Samuel R. Nelson to overdraw his account by $18,000 or $20,000. He claims that it was an error and maintenance. Nelson and Cardwell gave security to cover the loss and Cardwell was dismissed from the service.

The Rev. Father Fulton Passes Away.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, September 5.—The death of Rev. Robert A. Fulton, S. J., of the College of Santa Clara, Cal., this morning, is announced here. Father Fulton was born at Alexandria, Va., in 1826, graduated from the Georgetown College in 1842, and allied himself with the Jesuit Society. For seventeen years he was President of the Boston College and in 1882 became prominent as Superior-General of the Society of Jesuits. Failing health compelled him to relinquish active duties and he assumed the chair of English literature in the post graduate course at Georgetown University. In July last he went to California to recover health, but the change did not prove beneficial. Death resulted from paralysis.

MOBILE, Ala., September 5.—The steamer Fulton, in ballast, from Santiago de Cuba, arrived yesterday at Mobile quarantine, thirty miles below the city with two men sick on board. The quarantine officer examined the patients and was of the opinion that they had malarial fever. This morning one of the cases developed symptoms suspicious of yellow fever.

A TERRIFIC CLOUDBURST.

Two Mexican Towns Wiped Out of Existence by Water.

By Southern Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., September 5.—A special to the Chronicle from Feidras Negras, Mexico, says that advice has reached there of the most complete destruction of the towns of Rodriguez and Abastor, situated south of there in the valley of the Salado river. Both places were wiped out of existence by a cloudburst, which occurred in the San Blas mountains back of the towns. The water rushed down the valley in a tremendous torrent, sweeping everything before it. It covered the ground to a depth of six feet, and the flood was from six to nine miles wide. The business houses and residences of the two towns were built of adobe, and they melted away before the torrent of water like sand.

The town of Abastor had a population of 1,500 people. The inhabitants saw the torrent coming down the valley in time to make their escape to the adjoining hills. So far as known there were no lives lost in that place, although not more than fifteen houses are left standing. Every house in the town of Rodriguez, which has a population of 700, was washed away, but no lives were lost.

It was feared that there was a great destruction of property and lives lost further down the valley, as the portion was thickly settled. It is known that all the buildings on the hacienda of Joro Roba were caught in the flood and washed away, the loss of property amounting to about $20,000.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON TRADE.

What the Liverpool Cotton Exchange Has to Say on the Subject.

By Southern Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, September 5.—Acting President Felix Courtois has addressed the following to the Liverpool Cotton Association in answer to its announcement to the New Orleans Cotton Exchange relative to the proposed penalty of five pounds a bale on cotton not put up after this year as that institution desires:

"While this exchange is in sympathy with any proper movement to secure improvements in packing American cotton for market, it declines to recognize the right of the Liverpool Association to enforce by a penalty such improvement."

"This matter is one which must be regulated by competition between individuals. This Exchange, as the representative of a large percentage of Southern cotton growers, opposes anything in the nature of a threat or in that light the proposed penalty may be regarded, as calculated rather to retard than to advance the improvement desired. It doubts the ability of the Liverpool Association or any commercial body to carry out any such arbitrary ruling, and would refuse, even if the measure were feasible, to join in a matter which it considers disrespectful alike to American cotton planters and merchants."

An Attempt Made to Blow Up Rothschilds Banking Establishment.

A Man With a Bomb Under His Arm, Attached to Which Was a Lighted Fuse, Is Prevented by a Detective From Dealing Death and Destruction.

By Southern Associated Press.

LONDON, September 5.—A Paris dispatch furnished to the Globe by a News agency says that a bold attempt was made to-day to explode a bomb in Rothschild's bank in the Rue LaFite. While the business of the day was at its height a man walked into the bank carrying under his arm a bomb to which was attached a lighted fuse. One of the detectives employed in the bank was standing near, sprang upon the man, seized the bomb and extinguished the fuse in time to prevent an explosion. The would-be bomb thrower was arrested and taken to the police station.

This attempt to blow up the Rothschild's banking establishment, taken in connection with the recent sending of an infernal machine through the mails to the office of Baron Alphonse De Rothschild, signifies a persistent purpose on the part of the anarchistic element to inflict injury upon the heads and employees of the Rothschild house. It will be remembered that Baron De Rothschild's secretary, M. Jacobowski, was terribly injured by the explosion of the infernal machine sent to his employer's office while attempting to open the parcel in the absence of Baron De Rothschild.
